New York College Learning Skills Association Symposium 2025

Re-COGNITION: The Pillars of Student Success

Rochester, New York April 6 - 7, 2025 (Sunday-Monday)

The New York College Learning Skills Association (NYCLSA) Symposium will be held at the RIT Inn and Conference Center in Rochester, NY

Please note: If your institution is tax exempt, you MUST provide a tax-exempt form in advance or at check-in, as well as an institutionally-provided check, purchase order, or credit card. The hotel CANNOT accept your own personal check or credit card and give the tax-exempt status to you, even if you will be reimbursed by your institution, and even if you have the institutional tax-exempt certificate. The form of payment must exactly match the tax exempt form. We totally recommend that you take care of this in advance rather than at the front desk!

Re-COGNITION: The Pillars of Student Success – Join Us in Rochester for the NYCLSA 2025 Symposium!

Are you navigating the complexities of student support in higher education? Seeking fresh ideas to enhance student success, foster collaboration, or tackle challenges in your professional life? Feeling the need to reflect, recharge, and reconnect with colleagues who truly understand your experiences?

This April, NYCLSA is coming together in Rochester to celebrate Re-COGNITION: The Pillars of Student Success. This robust conference will be a platform for sharing insights, exploring innovative practices, and strengthening the foundations of student success.

Join us for thought-provoking sessions, networking opportunities, and strategies to inspire both you and your students. Whether you're focused on innovative solutions, fostering collaboration, or reflecting on self-care, this conference is for you.

Mark your calendar and plan to join us in Rochester for Re-COGNITION: The Pillars of Student Success. Let's come together to support each other, share our stories, and build the future of student success.

We can't wait to see you there!

Conference Highlights

In addition to conference sessions, this year's conference has two keynote speakers.

Our Sunday speaker will be Dr. Hunter Boylan, world renowned Director Emeritus of the National Center for Development Education and the major researcher in our field for 40+ years (check out this list: (Hunter R. Boylan - Google Scholar) His insights on the future of our field will be inspirational. If you have heard Dr. Boylan before, you know how good he is. If you have not, this is your chance to experience the founding father of our field.

Our Monday speaker is Dr. Leonard Geddes, of the LearnWell Projects, (<https://thelearnwellprojects.com/professional-narrative-project-snapshots/>) on Helping Students Do Better Academic Work. Geddes' work on metacognition- content, cognition, concepts, is exceptional. NYCLSA is delighted to host Dr. Geddes for a two-hour pre-symposium on Sunday and the keynote on Monday's luncheon.

Saturday Events: Come Early; Stay Late

Come to the NYCLSA Symposium a day early (Sat., April 5, 2025) to enjoy some great events and an additional opportunity to meet other folks attending the conference. Spouses, partners, and kids are welcome to join! We are working with OFC Creations Theatre Center (the play, Anything Goes!); the Rochester Knighthawks (Lacrosse game vs the Ottawa BlackBears; and the Museum of Play for discounted tickets. Contact Cha Ron Statler -LeBlanc cksrla@rit.edu or Sharon Green (sgreen24@juno.com) for more information.

Note: Because you'll be attending the NYCLSA Symposium, you can get the discounted RIT Inn room rate of $143/night for standard rooms and $191 for executive rooms on Sat., April 5 as well as Sun., April 6 and Mon., April 7. The hotel deadline for the discounted rate is March 22, 2025; be sure to make your reservations early!

Hope to See You There!
